Admiral Sherman Dies While In Italy

Naval Chief Succumbs To Heart Attacks

Naples, Italy, (AP)—Adm. Forrest P. Sherman, 54, U. S. chief of naval operations, died unexpectedly here yesterday after two heart attacks. He was on a tour of Europe's Atlantic pact defense area and had planned to leave yesterday afternoon for home.

He first was stricken early yesterday morning. A Navy medical officer and a Naples doctor were called and he appeared to rally. But several hours later, the second and fatal attack struck Sherman. Mrs. Sherman and Adm. Robert B. Carney, American commander of Allied forces in southern Europe, were at his bedside.

Sherman, a descendant of John and Priscilla Alden, had been boss of America's Navy since December, 1949. He replaced Adm. Louis Denfeld in the bitter squabble over unification of the Army, Navy and Air Force. A brilliant "flying admiral," he vaulted over the heads of nine other admirals to take the Navy's No. 1 post, the youngest, at 53, ever to get the job.

He was first stricken in his Naples hotel room shortly after he awoke yesterday morning and died there following the second attack, just after the noon hour. The body was removed to the U. S. S. Mt. Olympus, Admiral Carney's flag ship, in Naples harbor. A Naval spokesman said it would be returned to the United States by air at once for burial.

Although some of his fellow officers were critical of him when he took the Navy's top job after the firing of Denfeld, his leadership won him the confidence and devotion of the whole Navy. Grieving officers and men aboard the Mt. Olympus were stunned at the news of his death, as was official Washington.

The Admiral came here after visiting Madrid, London and Paris on his defense tour. He was reported to have worked out an agreement with Generalissimo Francisco Franco last week for setting up U. S. Naval and Air bases in Spain. Defense officials in Washington said his work on the Spanish negotiations was finished and would be carried on at lower levels.

The Defense department said Adm. L. L. McCormick, vice chief of naval operations, will take over Sherman's job temporarily until President Truman decides on a successor. The President received the news while cruising on the Potomac river.

Sherman had planned to fly to Madrid on the first leg of his return to Washington. He started his European tour in Madrid last Monday.

The Admiral and Mrs. Sherman had dinner at Pompei Saturday night and later attended an opera performance in the amphitheater in the ruins of the ancient Roman city.

Besides his wife, Admiral Sherman is survived by a daughter, Elizabeth Ann, the wife of Lt. Cmdr. John Fitzpatrick, formerly assistant naval attaché in Madrid.

Iran Optimistic

Tehran, Iran, (AP)—Deputy Premier Hossein Fatimi said last night that the Iranian government is "optimistic" about chances of reopening talks with the British in an effort to get oil shipments started again from Abadan.

Dies In Fall

Franklin, (AP)—Jane Lynn Hendershot, five-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hendershot, fell six feet from a porch roof last night and was killed as her head hit a tree stump.

Conferees To Draft Controls

Washington (AP)—Committees from the Senate and the House get together this week to write the final verdict on the long, bitter fight over economic controls, with pressures on both sides still mounting.

The lawmakers will meet Wednesday to start welding into one bill the varying measures passed by the two branches. They hope to finish by Saturday.

In advance of that they expect an emphatic restatement from President Truman of the case for the tight curbs the administration says are necessary to hold down inflation and expand defense production. The President gets his chance today in the message submitting the semi-annual report of his Council of Economic Advisers.

Washington, (AP)—Senator Taft (R-Ohio) is being pressed for a definite signal by friends who want him to go all-out in an effort to get the 1952 Republican presidential election.

Although he is regarded by many as already a candidate, Taft told a reporter he still hasn't made up his mind finally whether to bid actively for convention delegates.

Thus far his activities and those of his friends have been directed largely at trying to find out whether there is a good chance of his getting the nomination. Taft's attitude toward the matter is that he won't run unless he and his associates think he can win.

Recently he "has been under pressure to make up his mind on that score and it is likely the Ohioan will have a decision within a very few weeks. If he undertakes the race, however, there probably will be no formal announcement of his candidacy until early next year.

Kremlin's Men Of Action Gather At Warsaw, Indicating Renewed Peace Drive In Offing

Berlin, (AP)—The Kremlin's men of action gathered assembled in Warsaw yesterday in such number and high rank as to suggest a new Soviet move in world affairs—probably a renewed peace drive.

The magnet for the meeting on the surface was the seventh anniversary of the "people's" (Communist) government of Poland. But it was the first time this annual holiday had assumed such proportions in Soviet thinking.

The Politburo's number one advance agent, Deputy Prime Minister V. M. Molotov, headed the list of "visitors." Deputy Prime Ministers or foreign ministers came from the satellites along with high ranking military men. East Germany's party boss, Walter Ulbricht, who

HST Mourns Passing Of Adm. Sherman

Washington (AP)—President Truman said of the death yesterday of Forrest P. Sherman, admiral and diplomat, that the "country's loss is great."

And Secretary of State Dean Acheson called the naval member of the Joint Chiefs of Staff "a statesman who saw beyond the military problems to the objectives of national policy."

To Sherman, the two men had entrusted a diplomatic-military mission of great importance, exploratory talks with Spain to see whether she could be brought into the western world defenses against Russia.

Sherman died in Naples, Italy, a few days after he had held a conference at Madrid with Generalissimo Francisco Franco. A subsequent report had been forwarded to Washington indicating Franco favored the use by the U. S. of sea and air bases in Spain.

By regulation, the man who became acting chief of naval operations (CNO) upon Sherman's death was Adm. Lynde D. McCormick, the vice chief of operations.

But it is up to President Truman to decide who will be the permanent successor in the naval high command and member of the strategy-making JCS organization. There are at present four men with the rank of full admiral. Although selection is not confined to that rank, Sherman himself was a vice admiral when in 1949 he was named chief of naval operations.

The present four-star admirals, one of whom might be chosen by Mr. Truman, are:

McCormick, 55, whose service includes extensive periods of duty with the submarine force; William M. Fechteler, 55, commander-in-chief of the Atlantic Fleet and proposed head of North Atlantic Ocean command of North Atlantic Treaty organization (NATO); Robert E. Carney, chief of U. S. naval forces in Eastern Atlantic and Mediterranean, and Arthur W. Radford, 55, chief of U. S. Pacific Fleet, an aircraft carrier officer with a brilliant Pacific war record.

VFW Head Urges 'Positive Steps'

Harrisburg, (AP)—The Pennsylvania commander of the Veterans of Foreign Wars yesterday called on the U. S. State department to "initiate now, strong positive steps" demanding the immediate unconditional release of William N. Oatis, Associated Press chief of bureau at Prague.

At the same time, James J. Davis, recently elected head of Pennsylvania's VFW with a membership of 200,000 veterans, urged expulsion from this country of correspondents of Communist newspapers.

Davis, a Philadelphia attorney, wrote Secretary of State Dean Acheson that Oatis' "false imprisonment" by the Communist Czechoslovakian government "because of his objective reporting, outraged war veterans."

Dispatches from Warsaw had this to say: "The arrival in Warsaw of so many top officials is considered significant and sensational." It could be a session of the Cominform (Communist information bureau) called to transmit the latest Kremlin instructions.

Polish officials, hosts at a "national holiday" party Friday night, went to great lengths to drink toasts with Americans and other westerners, all on the same theme:

"To peace in Korea, to peace in the entire world."

The Russians at the same time displayed a suddenly temperate view toward the current stalemate in the Korean armistice talks. The usual sharp-toned castigations of the West were conspicuously absent.

This switch in tone appeared to be more than just an accident of the day. In Helsinki, the Communist "world peace council" took the same moderate view, French scientist Frederic Joliot-Curie, president of the council, declared "we must make people understand that negotiations have to replace the outrages of war."

Joy Awaits Reply From Communists

Tokyo, Monday (AP)—The chief Allied cease-fire negotiator prepared to return today to Korea with last-minute instructions from the supreme Allied commander. At Kaesong day after tomorrow, Vice Adm. C. Turner Joy expects to receive the Communist reply to his final offer on an agenda looking toward an end of the 56-week-old Korean war.

Since late Saturday, after the Kaesong talks were recessed at the Reds' request, Joy has been in closed consultations here with Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway. From the supreme Allied commander, he received explicit instructions on what steps to take if the Reds continue to insist that withdrawal of all foreign troops from Korea must be a subject on the cease-fire agenda.

But there was nothing to indicate the Red delegates had acted similarly during the recess.

The North Korean and Chinese Red delegates Saturday had asked the Far Eastern Air Force for a guarantee of immunity from air attack if the delegates traveled over 100 miles of road north from Kaesong to Pyongyang, North Korean capital, for further instructions.

Air Force Col. A. J. Kinney told the Reds such a guarantee could be assured if they supplied information on just when the trip would be made and describe the convoy markings.

A FEAP spokesman said today no further request has been received.

In Moscow, Pravda published a warning that if the United States breaks off the Kaesong talks and attacks the Reds, the Communists would turn the attack into a final destruction of the "interventionist armies."

Flood Crests At St. Louis

St. Louis, (AP)—The mighty Mississippi's highest flood here in 107 years kept on rolling yesterday—bringing danger to new areas below St. Louis.

The peak of the flood passed St. Louis around 4:30 a. m. (EDT) with a stage of 40.28 feet. This actually was 62 higher than during the disastrous 1947 flood, although both will be carried in the Weather bureau books to the nearest tenth at 40.3.

But despite passing of the crest little relief from the flood is expected immediately.

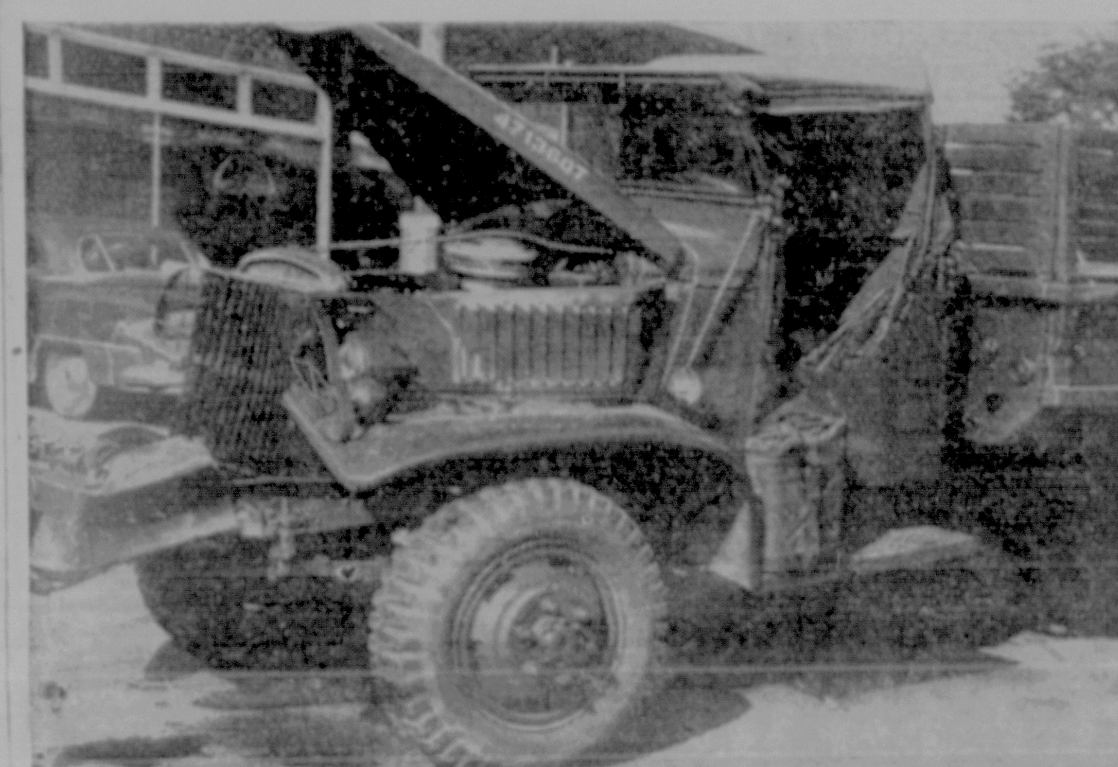

The fall yesterday was slight. The Weather bureau expects the water to remain for as much as a week.

Normally heavy river traffic came to a standstill Saturday with the closing of the main lock at Alton, Ill., north of St. Louis. Towboats and barges were tied up at the nearest docks.

An oil pipeline leak, similar to the situation that led to destructive fires in Kansas City, Kas., during the same flood last week, was repaired.

Coast Guard headquarters reported the oil which escaped had been carried away by the swiftly moving current.

Newest danger spot is in Perry county, Mo., across from Chester, Ill., and 50 miles south of St. Louis. Army engineers fighting to save 30,000 acres of rich farmland gave the levee there a 50-50 chance to withstand the pressure.

DEATH RIDES HIGHWAYS—Body of Cpl. Eugene J. ### Little Hope Held For 38 On Lost Plane

Juneau, Alaska, (AP)—Clearing weather permitting search planes to take to the air late yesterday for the first time since a Tokyo-bound Korean airlift DC-4 disappeared early Saturday along the mountainous Alaska Panhandle coastline with 38 persons aboard.

Little hopes were held, however, that any survivors would be found.

As the search planes took off, military authorities announced the names of the 29 Americans aboard. They included three Army officers and three civilians attached to the Department of the Army. Among them were these Pennsylvanians: S/Sgt. Homer E. Wenrich Jr., Sunbury; Sgt. John W. Ruse, Middletown; and Pfc. Ralph Taylor, Elwood City.

Two Royal Canadian Navy men also were aboard. The Canadian crew of seven included two stewards.

Seven planes began a low-level skimming search of the icy waters of the Gulf of Alaska. The first searches were spotty because of weather. Pilots said they had to go on instruments part of the time.

Seven more planes were ready to be thrown into the search as the weather permitted.

They included B-17s and other planes from Alaska's 10th Air Rescue Squadron, Coast Guard craft and four planes from Canadian Pacific airlines. Fields at Juneau, Yakutat, Anchorage and Fairbanks were being used by the planes.

Two Coast Guard cutters crisscrossed the icy sea off the panhandle through the night without finding any trace of the vanished plane.

500 Rounded Up

Cairo, Egypt, (AP)—Two relatives of the former Mufti of Jerusalem were reported among 500 persons rounded up in Jordan yesterday as a result of the assassination of King Abdullah. Middle East personalities converged on Amman for one of the Arab world's most glittering funerals.

Eight Persons Known Dead In Apartment House Blaze

San Francisco, (AP)—At least eight persons were burned to death and 23 injured yesterday in a quickly-spreading down blaze that destroyed a four-story apartment house.

Eighteen other persons who lived in the building were missing but most of these were believed away.

The bodies of seven women and one man were charred beyond recognition and firemen spent the day hunting through water-soaked debris for traces of others.

The Red Cross was checking a list of the building's 67 inhabitants in an effort to identify the dead.

Ten of the injured were firemen fighting the blaze which raced through the 44-year-old tenement, like structure. Damage was estimated at $40,000.

Residents poured from the building, most of them in their night clothes, carrying small bundles of personal belongings.

Acting Fire Chief A. J. Galli said the center of the structure was ablaze from main floor to roof by the time the first fire company arrived.

Many of the injured suffered broken legs and back injuries when they jumped from windows.

Authorities started a roundup of known firebugs. Police said there were "definite peculiarities" about this one, which apparently began near the elevator shaft on the first floor.

State Police Investigate Seven Pileups

The eastern section of Monroe county was visited by a long series of motor accidents over the weekend.

One man was killed and 14 other persons were injured, although only three required hospitalization, in the seven crackups investigated by State police of the Stroudsburg substation. Total damage totaled $4,605, according to police estimates.

Cpl. Eugene J. Kruger, 22-year-old National Guardsman of South Bound Brook, N.J., was fatally injured in a collision involving four vehicles at the intersection of Routes 611 and 12 at Bartonsville about 8:35 a.m. Saturday.

Kruger was driving an open Army truck in the vanguard of some 150 vehicles of the 114th Infantry, with headquarters at Trenton, N.J.

The convoy was moving north on Route 12 enroute to Pine Camp, N.Y., for two weeks of training. Military police attached to the unit were directing traffic at the intersection.

Pfc. James R. Reilly, who investigated, said Kruger was traveling on Route 12 and collided with the side of a tractor-trailer moving east on Route 611. The latter vehicle was operated by Norman C. Turner, 30, of Verga, N.J.

Corporal Kruger was thrown out of the truck he was driving and under the tractor-trailer, which jack-knifed after the crash. Blood stains on the left front wheel of the Army truck indicate Kruger struck the wheel before being crushed under the tractor-trailer. He suffered a fractured skull and was pronounced dead upon arrival by ambulance at the Monroe County General hospital, East Stroudsburg.

After hitting the Army vehicle, the tractor-trailer got out of control of the driver, police said, and rammed into two vehicles which had parked alongside Route 12 to await passage of traffic.

One of the parked cars, a 1951 station wagon was operated by Joseph H. Parsons, of 337 Main St., Stroudsburg, and damaged to the extent of $150. Wilhelm F. Buschman, of Stroudsburg RD3, was in charge of the other vehicle, a 1949 light sedan, damage to which was placed at $100. No one was hurt in the cars, police reported.

The truck, property of Cross Transportation Co., of Verga, was damaged to the extent of $1,200. The gas tank, rear wheel, frame, springs and both sides of the vehicle were wrecked. The truck was towed away.

The front bumper, grille, wrench, hood and cab of the Army truck were wrecked at an estimated loss of $600. It was moved away later by a truck in the guard convoy.

Dr. W. E. Andrew, county coroner, examined the body of Cpl. Kruger at the hospital and gave fractured skull as the cause of death.

The body was turned over to the Lantern funeral service and was removed to a funeral home at Bound Brook, N.J., where funeral and burial will take place tomorrow.

Cpl. Kruger, single, was the son of Charles and Helen (Jager) Kruger, of New York City. He served both in the Army and Navy in World War Two and had been a clerk at a U.S. Army depot. He was a member of Company H, 114th Infantry Regt., National Guard.

Boy, Scoutmaster Feared Drowned

Westfield, N. Y., (AP)—State police reported yesterday that a 15-year-old Boy Scout and his scoutmaster, both from Forest Hill, Pa., had been missing in a canoe in Lake Erie since Saturday.

Victor Smith, 15, and Cecil B. Kelly, 25, left their campsite five miles west of nearby Barcelona about noon yesterday. Three other boys who were camping with them reported them missing yesterday.

Kelly was scoutmaster of Troop 90 at Forest Hill, a Pittsburgh suburb. He and the Smith boy reportedly were good swimmers. State police said the pair carried two life jackets in their canoe.

The U. S. Coast Guard from Erie, Pa., is directing the search.

Local Issues To Dominate Voting Tuesday

By the Associated Press.
A variety of issues on the national, state and local level face Pennsylvania's voters in Tuesday's primary election—but the local scene everywhere will dominate.

Twenty-nine mayors will be nominated in the Commonwealth's cities, along with numerous county commissioners, 48 judges of common pleas, orphans, county and municipal courts and host of other local officials.

The election, which was moved forward from September to give service-men and women time to vote by mail, has so far drawn only a sprinkling of applications for mail ballots.

Voters registered at home, however, number some 4,771,182, or 10,000 more than a year ago. Voting nevertheless is not expected to be heavy. The polls open at 7 a.m. and close at 8 p.m. (Eastern Standard Time) Tuesday, or 8 a.m. to 9 p.m. (EDT).

Affecting the national scene is a special election in Pennsylvania's 23rd congressional district to name a successor to the late Rep. Frank Buchanan, McKeesport Democrat.

There voters will have a chance to express their opinions on the foreign policy of President Truman and Secretary of State Dean Acheson.

The opposing candidates are Mrs. Vera Buchanan, 48-year old grandmother and widow of Rep. Buchanan, a staunch Truman-Acheson advocate, and 30-year old Clifford W. Flegal, McKeesport city solicitor, a GOP critic of the President's foreign policy.

The only statewide race is a pitched battle between two Democratic candidates for justice of the State Supreme court.

Allegheny County Judge Michael A. Musmanno is trying to unseat Grover C. Ladner, Democratic organization candidate, appointed to the court by former Gov. James H. Duff.

Justice T. McKen Chidsey, former State General, is unopposed for the Republican nomination for a full 21-year Supreme court post to which he was named by former Governor Duff.

Gov. John S. Fine's policies will be under a test in Allegheny county where Sen. John M. Walker, Republican floor leader in the State Senate, is backing the Republican organization to run for county commissioner.

Walker has been a steadfast opponent of the Fine-recommended one-half of one per cent income tax which is bottled up in a Senate committee.

Although Fine has announced a hand-off policy in Allegheny county, Walker's opponent, Luis J. Conly, has the backing of U. S. Sen. James H. Duff.

An important contest in Philadelphia is nominations for the first mayor under that city's new charter.

The Republican organization, which has held sway in the State's metropolis for some 75 years, is fighting a battle for survival.

After three successive defeats in national, State and one city election, the GOP organization is backing Dr. Daniel A. Poling, nationally known preacher, for mayor.

Poling, who claims independent support also, is opposed by Walter P. Miller Jr., a paper box manufacturer.

The Democratic race for mayor of Philadelphia features Joseph M. Clark, city controller, who has the party organization support, and Joseph Sharfstein, an independent.

Next to the hot Philadelphia and Allegheny county races Dauphin county is drawing much attention. The organization of State

Thousands of municipalities will choose nominees for local posts including school boards, city and borough councils and township supervisors and commissioners.

A side issue in some 132 Pennsylvania communities will be local option elections on permitting or banning the sale of liquor or beer.

Walter Votes For Controls Bill, Opposes Amendments

Rep. Francis E. Walter (D-Easton) voted for passage of the economics controls bill along with a majority of the U. S. House of Representatives early Saturday, but voted against seven major amendments to the measure.

The bill differs from the one passed by the Senate and now goes to a joint Senate-House conference committee. The compromise measure that is expected to be adopted by the committee will in turn be submitted to the two houses for final passage before being sent along to President Truman for his signature.

The amendments which Congressman Walter opposed represent the following issues:

One—A two-year ban on imports of fats, oils, peanuts, butter, cheese and other dairy products in competition with domestic products.

Two—A ban on livestock slaughtering quotas.

Three—A ban against the President acquiring and operating defense plants.

Four—A limitation price rollback

Red Cross Appeals For 150 Pints Of Blood Tomorrow

Great Need For Blood Pointed Out

The American Red Cross bloodmobile unit, which will be at the CLU club, East Stroudsburg, tomorrow from 10 a. m. to 4 p. m., has an important quota of 150 pints of blood to fill.

According to a telegram sent to the local chapter by E. P. Bowers, administrator of the northeast regional blood donor center in Wilkes-Barre, the blood situation is very serious. The reason for this is because of the flooded Midwest blood centers' inability to collect blood.

Bowers also said that the seriousness of the situation has been furthered by a short civilian hospital supply and increased needs in the flood areas. The Korean shipment has not been decreased, despite the peace talks, rather it has been increased.

He concluded the telegram by saying that unless the quotas are filled by the various Red Cross chapters, they will be unable to cover all the needs.

LeRoy Mikels, blood donor chairman of Monroe county, suggests that vacationists take the time, now, while they are on vacation, to donate a pint of their blood to this cause. Those interested in donating their blood may call the American Red Cross headquarters in Stroudsburg. The number is 367.

Pfc. Edward T. Total damage to the vehicles was estimated at $1,550.

The trooper was called to the intersection of Routes 402 and 209 at Marshalls Creek about 6:15 p. m. when the 1941 sedan of Joseph Sapienza, 59, of Mapewood, N. J., was in collision with the 1950 taxi cab operated by Miss Jean Lanterman, 22, of 271 Prospect St., East Stroudsburg.

The left front fender, radiator and hood of the Sapienza machine were damaged $100 and had to be towed away. The right front fender and wheel of the Lanterman vehicle were damaged $50 and was able to move on its own power. No one was injured, the trooper said.

The second crackup involving three cars happened on Route 209 between Craigs Meadows and Marshalls Creek, while Officer Beneski was investigating the first crash.

The three cars were a 1941 light sedan operated by Kenneth L. Repsher, 24, of 223 S. Crystal St., East Stroudsburg, entire front end crushed, damage $500; a 1950 sedan, in charge of Edward J. O'Donnell Jr., Scranton, rear of car damaged, frame bent, seats knocked out of line inside, damage $800, and 1949 station wagon, operated by Stewart Summers, 47, Bushkill, rear of machine and seats inside displaced, $100. Two women were hurt at 1 p. m. Saturday in a two-car crash at the intersection of Routes 12 and 611, Bartonsville, practically the exact spot where Cpl. Eugene J. Kruger, National Guardsman, met with fatal injuries less than five hours earlier.

Pfc. Donald J. Henzey, of the Stroudsburg State police station, reported Erwin J. Frey, 60, of Northampton, Pa., had halted his 1937 two-door sedan at the stop sign on Route 12. He then started out when Elwood L. Wilcox, of Wellsville, York county, Pa., operating a 1941 coupe south on Route 611, crashed broadside into Frey's machine.

Mrs. Amey Frey, 55, wife of the operator, was thrown out of the machine onto the highway. She suffered severe body bruises. The drivers of the vehicles were not injured, police said.

Both Mrs. Frey and Mrs. Wilcox were taken to the Monroe County General hospital, where they were treated and admitted as patients.

The left side and undercarriage of the Frey car were damaged to the extent of $150, while entire front of the Wilcox machine was crushed, damage being set by police at about $250. Both cars had to be towed. Police said that Wilcox, a truck driver by occupation, tried to avoid the collision, but failed.

Portland — A three-quarter ton truck, driven by Samuel Coney, of Bellegrade, Palm Beach, Fla., carrying 11 colored persons to New York state to pick beans, crashed into the bungalow of Edgar Dalberg, this place, Saturday night. Damage to the truck was slight, but that to the bungalow was placed at between $400 and $500.

Damage to the Portland car was slight and that to the Easton man's $100, Felker said.

Just Between Us

—By Bobby Westbrook

Since we've been harping considerably on the drawback of working while everybody else is playing, it might well be time to point out that often what we call work looks mighty like pleasure to everybody else.

Feels like it, too. Take for instance weddings. Perfect excuse you have for barking in, even when you're not invited. Though the Burrows-Dunning wedding was supposed to be just family—there we were, big as life, and eating two pieces of wedding cake, too.

The Golden Rule class members were having a wonderful time, too. Since they were serving at the reception, they were in. And what a reception they gave Mr. Burrows. Every one of them put on fresh lipstick just to go through the receiving line.

And the bride insisted that the best present of all was getting six new grandchildren all at once—especially such attractive ones.

But that was Saturday—and I wouldn't have traded you jobs for anything. But Sunday—well, hot and close and sticky as it was, it still told more interesting stories than a magazine if you could read between the lines of the birthdays, picnics, and all the rest.

Vacation Bureau Directors Approve Increase In Dues; Promotion To Be Expanded

Directors of Pocono Mountains Vacation Bureau have approved an increase in dues for 1952 from $35 minimum and $1 per guest in 1951 to a minimum of $40 and $1.25 per guest for 1952.

Approval came after the proposal was discussed and results of studies submitted to directors at a meeting held in Mike Varkony's Diamond Inn, Saylorsburg.

Reports to directors and by directors on the current season boiled down to "fair."

Directors emphasized that the need for area promotion is still apparent and efforts to meet this problem will be expanded.

Leo A. Achterman Jr., 216 N. Ninth St., Stroudsburg, Saturday announced his intention of conducting a write-in campaign for the Democratic nomination for the two-year unexpired term for school director in Stroudsburg school district.

The unexpired term is actually the remainder of the term of office held by David Osborne who resigned when he was recalled to service. That unexpired period was filled by the board with their election of Dr. Claus Jordon to complete the Osborne term.

Mr. Achterman seeks the Democratic nomination for those two years. He is a life-long resident of Stroudsburg and a graduate of Stroudsburg High and Lehigh University.

Life of Riley

By JIM RILEY
Sports Editor

The large crowd gathered at the East Bangor ball park yesterday was treated to one of the most wonderful sights in baseball, as two of the finest young pitchers in the history of the Blue Mountain League came face to face in the battle for first place, as Mace Barnhardt did the hurling for the East Bangor contingent and Ray Steele was serving 'em up for the visiting Pocono A. C. battle, one of the best of the season, that lasted until the eighth inning when both clubs broke the hit famine.

Barnhardt and Steele both have fond hopes of someday making professional baseball their career and each hurled yesterday as if that very chance was at stake. Pocono A. C. gave the lanky Steele a one-run edge in the first inning when Dewey Martling stroked a home run into left-center field. The visiting contingent came up with three more in the eighth to seemingly put the game on ice. However, a combination of heat and East Bangor bats drove Steele from the hill in the bottom of the eighth, when the home club chased home three runs, on a base-full triple by Duane "Chip" Parsons.

Pocono A. C. still held a one-run edge going into the bottom of the final round, but some poor fielding, a couple of solid hits and a hit batsman gave East Bangor a 5-4 victory, with Chet Lucki, relief hurler, being charged with the setback. The victory gave East Bangor a commanding two-game lead at this point, one that will stand a lot of punishment being given-way to the clubs now located directly beneath the charges of Manager Paul LeBar. It will take a lot of help by the remainder of the circuit if Pocono A. C., Roseto or West Bangor is to finish in the number one spot in 1951.

East Bangor has one game left with every club in the league and would have been finished with Pocono A. C. if the two foes didn't have a rain-out contest to be made up at Gordon Giffels field sometime before the present campaign passes into history. The rain-out affair has been washed off the books on two different occasions. A two-game advantage at this spot in the schedule is almost as safe as Uncle Sam's gold in Fort Knox. East Bangor has shown a well balanced attack all season and the lead the club now features is no accident, not by a long shot.

However, all the real drama of the game centered around the pitching performance of Steele and Barnhardt, as each kid threw everything up to the plate but Saturday night's dream, in an effort to bring home the bacon for his club. However, Barnhardt finished on the long end of the score, while Steele was saved from defeat when Lucki came on the scene to put out the fire in the eighth, only to be tapped with the defeat in the bottom of the ninth.

It was the first time this season that Steele had been driven from the hill in the Blue Mountain League. The right handed youngster was in search of his fifth win, but left the game with a record of four victories and no defeats. It was the second time that East Bangor has taken the measure of Pocono A. C. this season, while the A. C. contingent won the first meeting of the two teams in the 1951 campaign, by a 1-0 count. A win in the final meeting of the two clubs for Pocono A. C. would even the card for the season.

Jim Dietz, veteran campaigner on neighboring diamonds, has a sound knowledge of the game and is an interesting conversationalist. "Skinny" Gilbert was caught off second base in the third inning when Martling asked the East Bangor left fielder to step off the bag while he straightened it. Martling then proceeded to tag the surprised fly-chaser, as the Pocono A. C. second sacker successfully worked the hidden ball trick. It is the first time this trick has been witnessed that trick performed successfully in a month of Sundays.

Don Lang is back assisting the East Bangor club and is doing a fine job with publicity and ticket sales, just as he did before resigning as secretary. Eddie Snyder, former member of the Stroudsburg Poconos, has developed into a hollerguy and really keeps things full of spirit on the East Bangor infield. It seems as if every time an important Blue Mountain league game is on tap, it is either cloudy or it rains. Rain fell during the first two innings of yesterday's contest, then passed over.

Harry Warner, former first sacker for the Stroudsburg Poconos and an off-season resident of Reiders, missed several games with the Evansville, Ind., entry in the class "B" Three I league recently, due to injuries. Warner, a member of the Boston Braves' farm system, was injured in a collision at first base with a runner, so this column was informed. Ed Malkowski, who always made a good showing for the West Chester Teachers cage machine on the East Stroudsburg State Teachers College court, was recently named head court mentor at Berwyn High school, in the Philadelphia area.

East Bangor Increases Advantage Over Pocono A. C.

Steele Shelled From Mound For First Time

East Bangor—East Bangor exploded for five runs in the last two innings here yesterday to knock Pocono A. C. out of almost certain victory and stretch the home team's league lead to two full games over the second place Pocono A. C. contingent. The final count found the East Bangor forces on the long end of a 5-4 count.

Ray Steele, Pocono A. C., and Mace Barnhardt, East Bangor, two of the most highly touted pitchers in this part of Pennsylvania, hooked up in one of the best pitching duels of the present campaign, until both clubs found the scoring range with abundance in the eighth frame.

Dewey Martling, Pocono A. C. second sacker, gave Steele a slim lead in the first inning, when he drove one of Barnhardt's pitches into left center field, 350 feet from home plate, for a home run.

Good Pitching Steele and Barnhardt got out of minor rough spots through the middle innings and both pitchers were in complete control of the contest, with the aid of some brilliant fielding by their respective low scoring fashion went out the circuit in the eighth, when both clubs scored three times.

Doug Schoonover singled to right after Steele had opened the frame by going down on strikes and Jim Werkheiser drew a life on an error Martling singled, his third hit of the day, to lead the bases. Danny Eppley then followed with a line single to right, scoring both Doug Schoonover and Werkheiser. John Drew then sent a one-py wallopp past third to second sending Martling home with the final run of the inning.

East Bangor, after seven scoreless frames, got into the scoring act in the bottom of the same frame. Charley Eden went out on an infield roller, but Ralph Kneebone came through with a single, as did Fisher. LeRoy Tucker fled to center, but "Skinny" Gilbert walked to fill the sacks. It was at this point that the left handed swinging Duane "Chip" Parsons drove a triple into left center field, to send three runners home.

Chet Lucki, veteran right hander, relieved Steele at this point and retired the side as Ed Snyder went out on an infield grounder. However, Lucki wasn't quite so fortunate in the ninth, as the home team sent across a pair of runs, the final of which won the ball game.

Al Pontrelli opened the frame with a line single to left, but Barnhardt, trying to sacrifice, popped up to Drew behind the plate. Jim Dietz, veteran campaigner, went into bat for Eden and singled. Kneebone lifted a high fly to left which Doug Schoonover misjudged and the ball fell for a double, scoring Pontrelli and putting runners on second and third.

Manager John Schoonover ordered Fisher purposely walked to fill the bases, but Lucki forced home Dietz with the winning run, as the Pocono A. C. chucker hit Chucker with a pitched ball.

Reeders Pushes Five Runs Across Plate In Seventh Frame To Triumph Over Analomink

Reeders—Five runs in the seventh inning here yesterday enabled Reeders to score an 8-6 victory over Analomink, here on the winning club's home field. The victory was the fifth in ten starts for the Reeders contingent this year.

Analomink took a 1-0 lead on Gordon Souders in the first inning, then scored three more times in the third. However, Reeders began to roll at this point, scoring single in the third and fourth frames, before Analomink came up with singletons in the sixth and seventh.

Ices Game However, it was in the seventh frame that the Reeders club put the contest on ice, picking up five counters. The home team made doubly certain of victory with a singleton in the eighth.

Lloyd "Sonny" Woodling worked the last three innings for the Reeders club and was credited with the victory. Jim Correll and Melvin "Bub" Bush divided the hurling task for Analomink, with Bush being charged with the loss.

Charley Eden and Bonser, both with three hits, led the Reeders attack, while Bush was the big gun in the losing attack, also with three safeties.

The remainder of the feature field finished in the following order: Otto Harwi, Bethlehem; Norman Cawley, Middletown, N. Y.; Joe Cryan, Oxford, N. J.; Joe Ward, Washington, N. J.; and "Shorty" Dingler, Reading.

Other Match In the other match, Tony Trabert, the 20-year-old sensation from the University of Cincinnati, won his badge as a singles representative for Uncle Sam by humbling Fumiteru Nakano, Japan's vet veteran, 6-4, 7-5, 6-0.

Stockertown, West Bangor Gain Nods

Stockertown — The home team used four runs in the sixth and two in the seventh as a springboard to an 8-5 victory over Johnsonville in a Blue Mountain league game here yesterday. Stockertown also tallied singletons in the second and third rounds.

While Stockertown was taking the measure of Johnsonville, West Bangor was winning over Tatamy, 7-5, on the latter's home field. Charley Verona was the winning hurler, while Bob Mellman was charged with the setback.

Scoring Johnsonville's scoring featured singletons in the first and third and a three run rally in the seventh that fell short of its goal.

Lockwitch, Storm To Clash In Title Match

matches of the second flight during the past weekend. The two foes are listed for action on Sunday, at 9:50 a.m.

The two third-flight semi-final matches are still to be played, sometime this week.

Russ Williams defeated John Watt, seven and six, in one of the fourth-flight semi-final matches and will meet George Savage next Sunday, for the title, at 10:10 a.m. All flights, except the championship division, will be 18 holes.

The public is invited to watch the final round of matches.

The other Roseto forfeit was to East Bangor last month, when the Roseto club had another player excused from the contest early and was unable to replace him. The same thing was true yesterday as Roseto opened the game with only nine players.

pushing forward, planning, things will eventually work out best.

November 23 to December 23 (Sagittarius)—Most workers in factories and offices will be promoted, or at least, with figures are in better position to seek advancement, financial help. You think others should, it is rewards.

December 23 to January 21 (Capricorn)—Slightly favorable aspects, a few small gains, but no big gains in stock, produce, merchandise. Avoid foolish physical risk, safeguard health and family.

January 22 to February 23 (Aquarius)—You will have to think of more than one thing at a time today or you'll miss the parade. You have the energy to do it, but not the time to reach your goal. You can achieve.

February 24 to March 20 (Pisces)—You will have to be very careful in business deals where some doubt may be to soundness. After 4 p. m. no more deals. You may have some profitable contacts offered.

Dodgers Run Over Cardinals

Brooklyn (AP) — The league-leading Brooklyn Dodgers posted their ninth straight victory over the St. Louis Cardinals yesterday as Carl Erskine turned back the Red Birds, 9-2, on seven hits. Erskine lost his shutout in the ninth when Stan Musial homered with one aboard. Roy Campanella belted two out of the park for the Dodgers.

Erskine, who stopped Cincinnati on two hits his last time out, now has won ten and lost eight.

Belted Out
Rookie Joe Presko started for the Cards and was belted out in the third when the Dodgers scored four runs to grab a 4-0 lead.

Billy Cox opened the rally with a triple and was singled home by Erskine. Pee Wee Reese followed with a double to route Presko in favor of Red Munger. Duke Snider and Jackie Robinson greeted Munger with singles to complete the uprising.

The Dodgers added three more in the sixth at the expense of Al Brazle. Campanella accounted for two of the runs with his 14th and 15th homers.

Pirates Divide Twin Attraction With Braves

Boston, (AP)—Murry Dickson won his twelfth game of the season, 5-2, over the Boston Braves yesterday to give the last place Pittsburgh Pirates an even split in their doubleheader after the Braves took the opener, 5-3.

The little righthander had a three hitter going into the ninth inning when Earl Torgeson, who received

Grid Staff Complete

Pittsburgh (AP) — The Pittsburgh Steelers of the National Football League have completed their coaching staff by signing assistants Mike Nixon and Charles Cherundolo. Earlier Walt Kielsing and Bob Davis, signed contracts as aides to coach Johnny Michelosen this year.

Each manager threw 18 players into the game.

Nixon, who lasted only three and two-thirds innings, climaxed a four-run rally in the fourth inning with his double. That blow drove starter Bob Cain, who had never lost to the Red Sox, out of the box. Four Boston pitchers gave up 13 hits.

Boudreau, Bobby Doerr and DiMaggio paced the Boston attack. The Red Sox ended their western trip with a 7-6 record.

NEW YORK, (AP)—Monte Irvin singled Whitey Lockman home from second base in the ninth inning yesterday to give the New York Giants a 9-8 victory over the Cincinnati Reds in the second game of a doubleheader. The Reds won the opener, 7-3, behind Ken Raffensberger. Home runs by Joe Adcock, Connie Ryan and Ted Kluszewski led the Red drive while Willie Mays clouted two home runs to account for all of the Giant scoring.

The Reds were outlit, eight to seven, but Raffensberger was tight in the clutches, walked none and fanned five. He had difficulty only with Mays, the rookie centerfielder. It was the veteran hurler's tenth win of the year.

Dave Koslo, the first of four New York pitchers, was the loser, but Koslo came right back in a relief role to be the winner in the second game, making him five-and-eight for the year.

The Giants held leads of 4-0, 5-4 and 8-5, yet had to go into the last of the ninth to pull the game out. In the top of the ninth, Bobby Usher homered with one down, Bobby Adams singled and Ryan, with his second round tripper of the afternoon, tied it up.

Ewell Blackwell, who had come in to pitch the ninth, was the victim, suffering his ninth reverse and the second of the series.

Council Adopts Regulations For Parking

Portland — The council of this borough has adopted its first ordinance regulating parking. The law will become effective about August 2 and will be enforced by police under the direction of Chief Burgess Dr. Howard Ott.

First section of the law directs that all vehicles must be drawn parallel to the right-hand curb, unless other directions are applicable to the particular space. Each vehicle must be parked between white-lined space, when they are so marked.

Where curbs are painted orange, or where official signs have been erected prohibiting parking, no vehicle may be parked, stopped or left standing.

Whether occupied or not, vehicles may not be parked, stopped or left standing longer than the time limit shown on official limiting signs.

Neither may any vehicle be left standing or parked overnight when such parking is prohibited by official signs. Council is empowered to erect any such signs as are necessary to regular parking. Vehicles may not be parked so as to obstruct the entrance to any street, alley or any passageway or driveway, whether public or private, entrance or exit.

Signs or curb painting is reserved as the sole right of the borough.

House Unit Recommends Depot Funds

The House Armed Services committee has recommended the appropriation of an additional $3,872,000 for the Signal Corps depot at Tobyhanna.

This item is earmarked to cover completion costs, over and above the current estimated costs of the depot.

Actually, of the nearly $30,000,000 estimated cost as of the date the depot was authorized, only $17,000,000 has been actually appropriated.

The new amount is not appropriate, but recommended for approval and appropriation at such time as it is needed.

Penalty clause fixes the penalty at $1 and costs, or in default, ten days in the county jail.

The power capacity of rivers in the U.S.S.R. is estimated to equal slightly less than one-third of the potential water power capacity of the world.
